Hello,

My name is Fiachra. I am currently in the middle of a full-stack software development course, and as part of my current project (a full-stack portfolio website), I am required to conduct competitor interviews. I came across your site on <https://tamuk.quickstart.com/blog/10-full-stack-web-developer-portfolio-to-inspire-you/> - your site is amazing by the way.

If you had the time I would love to ask you a few questions about your experience as a full-stack software developer, specifically with regards to feedback from users about your own portfolio – the good experiences and the not so good.

If you're not interested in this then please feel free to ignore this email, if you would be interested in helping out then please do get in touch and I will send you back a few short questions, it shouldn't take more than a few minutes.

Thank you for taking the time to read this.

Kind Regards,

Fiachra

Hi Fiachra,

Thanks for contacting us and for the compliment.

Feel free to answer your questions.

As we are a team, lots of people worked on it with their respective skills. Some questions may be hard to answer.

best,

Hi Mathieu,

Thanks a million for getting back to me. If there are any questions you can't answer please feel free to leave them blank, questions are listed below.

1. Have you had any negative feedback from a user of your website? If so, have you made any changes based on this? :
2. Have you had any positive feedback from users of your website with regards to any features or content? :
3. Have you removed/amended any features of your own volition after realizing they were not useful/not providing a good user experience? :
4. If you had to build the site again from scratch is there anything you would have done differently? :
5. If you could give someone who was building their own portfolio site one piece of advice what would that be? :

Thanks again in advance, this information will really help me out!

Kind Regards,

Fiachra

Hi Mathieu,

I hope you're well. I was wondering if you had a chance to go over the questionnaire I sent to you? My project deadline is approaching and I would need to document your answers if you will be sending them. If you do not have the time then please feel free to let me know and I can try another site(s).

All the best.

Kind Regards,

Fiachra
